

The Underground Railroad in the Adirondacks

A slideshow and presentation

At the
Schroon Lake Public Library
Tuesday, September 24th 7 p.m.

The Underground Railroad helped tens of thousands of slaves to freedom before the Civil War, and thousands came through the Lake Champlain Corridor to Canada. Join us as Peter Slocum, from the North Star Underground Railroad Museum, shares with us his extensive knowledge of the history of the Underground Railroad and Essex County's abolitionists John and Mary Brown.